"Ciudades del Futuro" was born as an annual congress held in Bilbao. It has a dual objective, on the one hand, to serve as a discussion forum for reflecting on the opportunities and challenges that cities are facing in areas such as the economy, governance, and, of course, sustainability, innovation, and mobility. On the other hand, it aims to be a meeting point for institutional representatives, non-governmental organisations, industry, and education to share their experiences and ideas.

As part of this event we have been invited to be speaker in a panel about digital rights and smart cities. The video of this session can be seen in this link
