

NEWS

“6 billion of urbanites in 2050”

Metropolis has collaborated with Aquae Foundation who has currently launched an initiative to promote World Environment Day. This platform has a Smart Blog, where journalists, innovators, scientists, heads of institutions, among many others are asked to publish their thoughts and expertise on environmental issues.

Secretary General, Alain Le Saux, has been asked to participate in the Smart Blog of the Foundation as Metropolis with its 136 members represents 685 million inhabitants worldwide, quite a figure to realize that metropolises worldwide are facing significant environmental challenges.

Read* the Secretary General's post at:

<http://campus.fundacionaquae.org/6-mil-millones-de-urbanitas-en-2050/>

*only available in Spanish