The New Cities Summit is the leading global event on urban innovation, taking place this year in Montréal 21-23 June 2016. The Summit will convene top entrepreneurs, innovators, policymakers, CEOs, change-makers, investors and thinkers in this domain. The New Cities Summit supports creative, scalable Urban Tech solutions that can be shared and adapted to cities around the world.

The event empowers those who are shaping urban innovation, connecting them and encouraging cross-sector partnerships. The Summit features a unique and diverse program, combining thought leadership keynotes, roundtables and interactive workshops surrounding key challenges facing cities, and the role of technology in their solution.

The 2016 edition of the New Cities Summit brings together Urban Tech leaders from around the world. Montréal's vibrant entrepreneurial spirit, animated public spaces and unmatched cultural scene make it the perfect backdrop for our global conversation on the challenges, opportunities and best practices of the cities of the future.
