The International Metropolitan Fellowship (IMF) is an international, multicultural and interdisciplinary community supporting governments, academics and professional sectors building up and spreading metropolitan discipline (planning and management) to achieve sustainable development. IMF is passionate about transforming metropolitan dynamics for sustainable growth and balance between efficiency, equity and environment, through a permanent learning process advocated for innovation and sharing ideas and experiences.

In celebration of World Metropolitan Day 2021, the IMF is organising its first International Metropolitan Congress led by its Founder, Pedro Ortiz and various other experts, professionals and academe that aim to pioneer, advocate and spread the Metropolitan discipline.
