

Training Regional Center for America

Mexico City's
School of Public Administration (EAP)

www.eap.df.gob.mx

León Aceves Díaz de León
lacevesd@df.gob.mx

Introduction

The Mexico City's School of Public Administration was created in 2009.

- Mission:

- To promote from within the government, professionalization of public officers through specialized and applied training, providing them with a profile with the following competencies: effectiveness, technical excellence, public service awareness, objectivity, impartiality, respect to legality and commitment to accountability
- To promote research and provide consultancy on the most relevant public problems in the City, in order to contribute with transformation of the management model towards results to increase social impact

The EAP started operating as a
Training Regional Center for America
in 2013

Training Plan 2014

- Number of Programs
 - Two
- Period, Venue
 - Mexico City
 - May and July, 2014
- Themes
 - Virtual platform for data and experience exchange on Disaster Risk Management (May, 2014)
 - International seminar on “Successful Policies against overweight and obesity” (July, 2014)
- Qualifications of Participants
 - Public officers with management responsibilities in application of policies
 - Experts from international bodies and universities

- Targeted Audience
 - Public officers of Mexico City's Government
 - Public officers from METROPOLIS's member cities in America
 - Experts and researchers
 - NGO's
- Lecturers
 - Public officers of Mexico City's Government
 - Public officers from METROPOLIS' member cities in America
 - Experts from international bodies
 - Experts and researchers from universities and innovation centers
- Teaching Methods (personal, on-line and combined)
 - Lectures
 - Panel Discussions
 - Case Studies
 - Exposure to real professional situations
 - Simulations
 - Role Games
 - Exchange of Experiences

Strengths of Regional Center's Training

- Strengths of Regional Center Teaching Method Currently Applied
 - Training programs taught by the EAP are part of a model of Public Management for Results
 - Application of a training model oriented towards development of professional competencies
 - Combined use of several learning strategies and methods
 - Structure of topics and contents is built through dialogue and collaboration with officers and experts, as well as networking with public institutions, universities, international bodies and NGO's
- Strengths of Regional Center Training Specialties
 - The topics of training specialties are highly interesting and relevant for the cities within the Region
 - New Public Management
 - Welfare Policy
 - Disaster Risk Management
 - Development of Citizenship
- Specialties to be shared with MITI
 - Participation of Mexico City's officers and experts from the region as lecturers in MITI and other centers' activities
 - Joint research and publications
 - Sharing the EAP's research and publications

Weaknesses of Regional Center's Training

- Weaknesses of Regional Center Training Programs Currently Applied
 - Limited financial resources to move officers from METROPOLIS' member cities
 - Limited financial resources to bring international experts
 - Insufficient promotion of activities within the Region
 - Insufficient institutionalization of MITI's global schema
 - Insufficient clarity of MITI's objectives, methods, instruments and training topics, which makes preparation of the Regional Center's Working Program difficult
- Specific Issues Regional Center wants to have advice from the peers
 - Promotion
 - Linking with other networks